Kurs: Designing services to support student wellbeing in hybrid times

Collaboration between TUM and Aalto University (Finland)

Kategorie: Veränderungen (er)leben

Dr. Daniel Holl, Anna Donato, Partners from Aalto

- January, 27th, 9 a.m. - 10:30 a.m. via Zoom

The event is targeted at learning/teaching support service professionals as well as other groups interested in developing student wellbeing.

Topics of the workshop:

Designing services to support student wellbeing in hybrid times is an event aiming at sharing knowledge and best practices on ways to support student wellbeing in (post)pandemic era.

Key issues include:

- What are the main needs now compared to the time during and before the pandemic?
- How should we organize services to respond to those needs?
- How do we develop student-centric services?

This workshop is part of the Maximilian Graf Montgelas Program aiming at developing competences by knowledge sharing and virtual exchange within the worldwide TUM partner network. The collaboration with Aalto (Finland) is one of these.
